ALL OF US HAVE BEcome increasingly concerned about pollution of one kind or another in recent years.

In fact the word "ecology" which sort of lumps together all the pollution problems and anything else that has any bearing on environmental conditions, has now become of common usage.

Everyone seems to be using the word.

And it was virtually unheard of not so long ago.

We recall that we had to trot to the dictionary, when we first heard it, to get the proper definition so we would know what the experts were talking about.

Although a great many people have expressed concern over the water pollution problem that is affecting the S.F. Bay and many others feel almost as strongly about the filling of bayland, it is the air pollution problem that seems to be bugging most of us.

In other words, SMOG.

MOST OF US MAINTAIN that the smog problem in our area is getting increasingly worse.

Sure you can call it haze, if you want to, but the eyes smart just as badly as they do with smog.

It was because most of us thought that smog was increasing that the edict issued by the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District banning backyard burning didn't draw more fire than it did.

Of course no one (especially those who used to fire-up the backyard incinerators at periodic intervals) have been able to detect any lessening of the smog since the ban went into effect.

Consequently BAAPCD has been subjected to criticism and increasingly bitter attacks from various quarters.

And, believe us, the backyard burning is just one of the areas in which dear old BAAPCD has been blasted.

Now we learn from BAAPCD that smog IS NOT increasing.

That's nice to know.

RECENTLY THE BAY Area Pollution Control District issued a four-page booklet in which were listed some of the charges that had been made and followed by factual material to refute the allegations.

We thought you might be interested in some of the charges and the answers: (Remember the answers are presented by BAAPCD...not us.)

Here's one that we bet will sorta catch you:

CHARGE: Air Pollution is getting worse in the Bay Area every year.

ANSWER: Objective studies show that there has been measurable improvement in air quality during the past 10 years.

Visibility has improved in the San Jose Airport by 25% in that time and the population has increased by 50% and automobiles by 74%.

The only objective way to measure air pollution is with scientific instruments. But it is difficult for the public to accept the studies as valid because there has been an upsurge of public awareness of air pollution.

"As a result, the public perceives air pollution for the first time and in the people's minds it simply didn't exist before it was perceived".

HERE IS ANOTHER one that brings it right back home to us:

CHARGE: Open burning is allowed for fire training.

ANSWER: Burning for fire training is an essential method used to teach fire fighting.

While there is hope that alternative means of disposal may be found for diseased or PLANTING TIME---Mrs. Ruth Hartman on the left, vice-chairman of the Campbell Beautification Committee, and Mrs. Jeanette Watson, chairman, examine some of the lovely plants that have been contributed, unanonymously, to the landscaping of the Campbell Fire Station No. 2 on Sunnyoaks Ave.

Fire station to get trees on Arbor Day

Arbor Day, Saturday, March 7, will be observed in Campbell with the landscaping of Campbell Fire Station No. 2 on Sunnyoaks Ave., according to Mrs. Jeanette Watson, Campbell Beautification Committee chairman.

Volunteer help is being asked by the committee members to plant the already accumulated 300 to 400 plants, trees and shrubs which have been purchased or donated for the landscaping project.

Plans for the landscaping have been donated by James Kikuchi of Cambrian Nursery, an estimated savings of $1000. U-Save Rockery, 64 N. Harrison Ave., donated all of the sawdust needed for the planting, and rototilling of the grounds has been done by George Nuich.

Planting will start at 9 a.m. and members of Pack 377, Den 4, will be on hand to plant a pine tree they have purchased themselves, according to Den Mother Mrs. DeDun Williams. Members of Boy Scout Troop 377 from Hazelwood School will also be present to aid with the planting.

An excellent selection of plants has been received from the new Colonial Savings and Loan Association, who are now in the process of moving out of the trailer they have occupied on Colonial Way and into their new building, 1510 S. Winchester. All of the plantings around the trailer are being donated to the fire station, according to Jim Schafer, manager.

Other donations of shrubs have been received from Mrs. J. J. Pardee on Sunnyoaks and an anonymous donor has contributed over one-half of the needed plants and shrubs. Redwood header-boards are still needed and more financial contributions would allow for the purchase of additional plants to complete the plantings. Plant cost has been pegged at either $1.75 or $6.50 per plant.

Financial contributions have already been received totaling over $200. Campbell JayCettes donated $15; Campbell Country Woman's Club, $60; and a $100 contribution from Floyd Little, A & W Root Beer Drive-in owner.

Other donations are being received from the Campbell Kiwanis Club and the Campbell Fire Fighters.

Anyone who has to help with the planting project during Saturday is asked to bring shovels, rakes and hoes.

For the library

Only three parcels remain to be acquired for the new library site between Central and Harrison as a result of the City Council action last week in approving the purchase of the property of Mrs. Josefa Texeira, at 74 N. Central, for $21,800.

Henry Grattan owns two of the parcels on North Central, yet to be purchased and Ray Stroppa owns the property on North Harrison that is needed.

Seven parcels originally made up the new library site. Previously purchased by the City were the properties of Lou Colla, Merle Cook and Mrs. Jewel Pritchard.

Zoning on S. Bascom concerns residents

Because only four of the commissioners were present Monday night, the Planning Commission continued until Monday, March 16, the hearing on the pre-zoning of the area on S. Bascom which is in the process of being annexed to the City.

The area in question involves "The Yardstick" and adjacent parcels on S. Bascom, Apricot and El Solyo. Residents in the area are protesting the proposed C-2 (medium commercial) that the city staff has recommended which was the only type of zoning that could be considered at the hearing.

The continuation of the hearing to March 16 will allow the Planning Commission to consider P-0 (professional office) or C-1 (light neighborhood commercial) in addition to the C-2.

The new hearing notice includes the other two zones.

The continuation, however, will probably force the City Council to defer action on the proposed annexation until April 13 (assuming that the Commission makes a prezoning recommendation at the March 16 meeting), as not enough time will have elapsed between the Commission and Council meetings for the legal notification of the annexation hearing.

Again present at the hearing on Monday was a delegation of about 20 concerned residents of the area with Richard Schilling, of El Solyo, as their spokesman.

Schilling, who also spoke at the first hearing when the Commission deferred the matter, contended that "The Yardstick" operation was creating a nuisance to the neighborhood. He cited the extensive parking area that was needed, the inadequate loading facilities and the lack of control of employee parking.

Schilling agreed that neighborhood commercial or similar zoning was inevitable for the area but that C-2 zoning was too heavy for the area and that "The Yardstick" busi-

Students take cruise in sea-going laboratory

Campbell High School science students added a third dimension to their studies recently when they participated in a four-hour cruise of the San Francisco Bay aboard the scientifically equipped Inland Seas Marine Science Floating Laboratory.

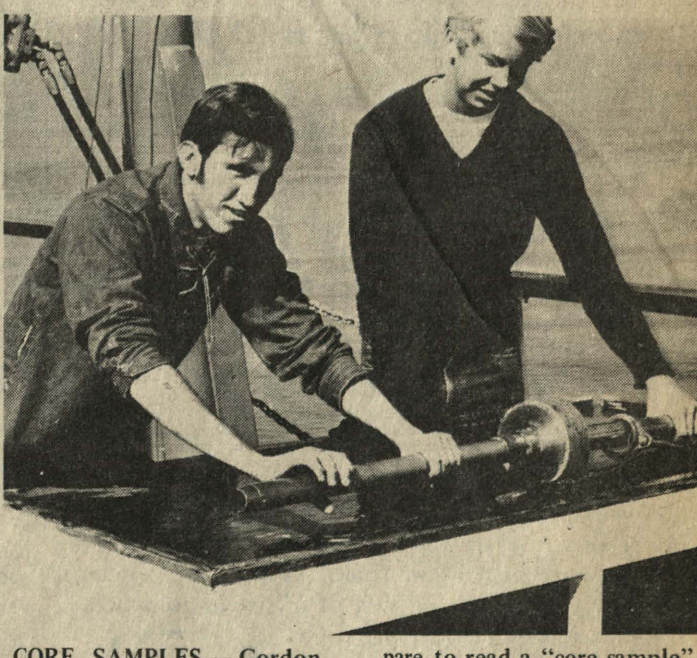
The 35 students were divided into five groups and each group rotated at the five working stations, participating in the actual collection of core samples from the bottom of the bay, studying the current drifts, water chemistry and observing the sea life, as well as navigating the ship.

The fully equipped ship, which is a smaller version of the Stanford University ocean-going sea lab, is available to all science classes in 11 Bay Area Counties through the Northern California Marine Biology and Oceanography coordinating committee. The 100-foot long vessel is under the direction of Mrs. Ann Coopersmith, according to Mrs. Jacqueline Madhok, Campbell High School science club advisor and biology teacher. Students participating in the cruise raised $130, and other, longer trips are available. The ship is also booked for trips during the weekdays.

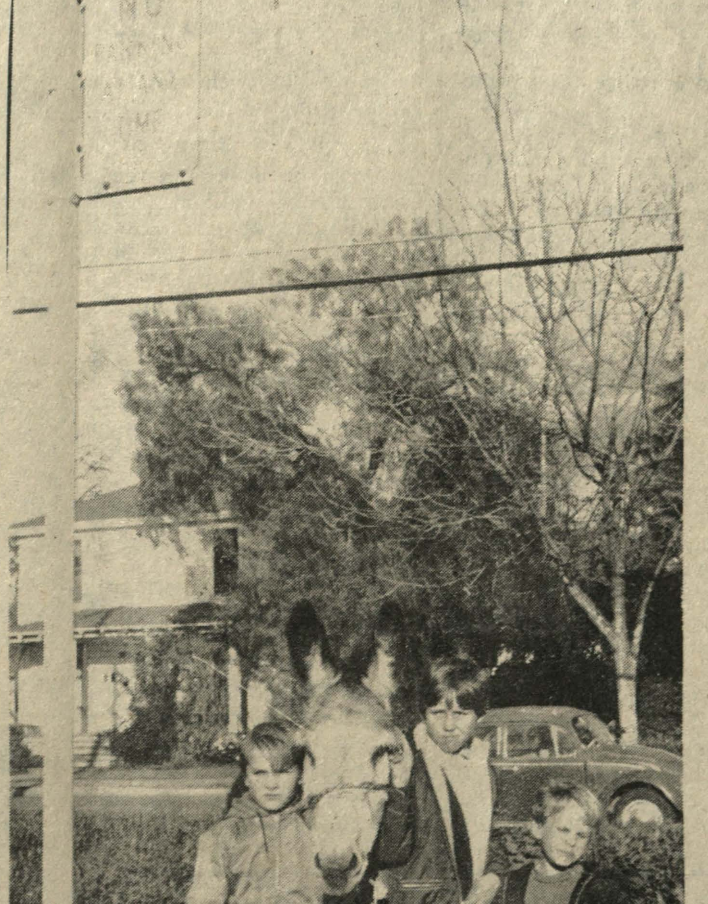
During the cruise students netted sea life samples such as leopard sharks, plankton, crabs, sole, flounder, shrimp and other sea life, many of which they took back to school for further study.

Core samples taken during the day were also taken back to the school lab for a study of the bay and its pollution problems. Students were also taught how to classify plankton and how to prepare samples for microscopic study. Current drifts were studied, as well as temperature readings, oxygen and phosphorous readings.

The students were accompanied by Mrs. Madhok, John Ewert, Campbell High School chemistry teacher and Don Armistead, director of education at the school.



CORE SAMPLES --- Gordon Bailey and Paul Roseland, Campbell High students, prepare to read a "core sample" taken from the San Francisco Bay by the Phleger corer.



JUST BEING NEIGHBORLY---Shucks, it's getting so you can't go visiting any more without being run in.

A friendly little burro out for a stroll was "parked" at the police station on Monday by three youngsters who were concerned that their four-footed friend (named "Larry") might get confused by the traffic or something.

"Larry" didn't mind going with the kids at all. That's Doug Madeiros, on the left, then "Larry" flanked by Kevin Vannoy and his brother, Allen. Police report that "Larry's" owner picked him up later in the day.

Gilman-Dillon-Railway area zoning hits Council March 23

Whether the interim zoning for the Gilman-Dillon-Railway area, which expires on March 10, should be continued or whether the area should revert to its M-1-S (light industrial) zoning status will probably be taken up at the Monday, March 23, meeting of the City Council.

At the special meeting last night (after press time) the Council was scheduled to establish a moratorium on any building action in the area until definite zoning action is taken by the Council.

The interim zoning has been in effect foe a year because the "701" planning study had indicated that the area should be considered under the redevelopment program for low-cost multiple housing.

Under such special zoning, use permits must be issued for any construction of a permanent nature. The recent denial of a permit for California Shingle and Shake Co. for such a permit was upheld by the City Council.

Another request for a permit is pending from Home Federal Savings and Loan Association to construct an industrial building at 126 Dillon.

The Council could not act

Scott "prepares" for county race

Dale Scott, of 264 Radford Drive, vice-chairman of the Planning Commission, has submitted his resignation as executive director of the County Taxpayers Association, a position he has had for the past eight years.

Scott, 32, a graduate of San Jose State, is expected to announce his candidacy for the office of Santa Clara County Tax Assessor next week.

Scott, who is a director of the Campbell Community Hospital, is chairman of the California Advisory Commission on School Budgeting.

RAIN DROPS

Rainfall during the last week resulted in 1.56 inches more rain being added to the total, bringing the seasonal rain to date to 11.49.

Normal for the year is 12.50 inches with 22.39 inches having been recorded for this same time last year.

Editorial

A guest editorial

We thought the following letter and story worthy of space in the editorial columns of this newspaper.

The writer points out in the first paragraph of his article an important point that all of us overlook continuously.

"In the rush of personal activity all of us miss many things which go on around us, even right here in Campbell."

The writer, of course, was emphasizing especially the activities of which the West Valley Senior Citizens Center is the focal point.

But the same concept is applicable to other areas of action in the community.

There is no question but most of us do get so involved in our own personal affairs that we fail to recognize that we are part of the community as a whole.

We have long advocated that there is a desperate need in this country today for the involvement of the citizens in their government and in all phases of community endeavor.

Anyway, we felt that this letter and story from Mr. MacEwen would very effectively serve as the "editorial" for this issue.

We think you will agree.

Dear Editor Vierhus:

Congratulations on the "Progress Edition." I read your column and I know something about the work which it takes for a big production like this.

I enclose some copy which I hope you may find suitable for your column. The incident is true in every particular. My wife is the VISTA Volunteer who was the Aide in the case.

Also I wish to thank you for the space you gave in my previous little article last Fall when I expressed my views on some of my impressions about Campbell and its citizenry.

With best wishes to you, The Press and "Out On The Limb," I am

Sincerely,

N. K. MacEwen
VISTA Volunteer

THIS IS TRUE

In the rush of personal activity all of us miss many things which go on around us, even right here in Campbell.

For example, how many of you who read this know that there is a very active Senior Citizens Center at 41 West Rincon Avenue, the only one of its kind in Santa Clara County, and known as the West Valley Senior Action Center?

What does it do?

It performs the usual activities so important to the welfare of the elderly, about which most of you may know or have heard about. But in real emergencies it does more. We shall tell you of a case in point which happened just a short time ago.

A very elderly and very fine woman whom the Center had transported to a local Convalescent Home many times called for immediate transportation one morning, as the doctor reported her husband slipping badly.

Within minutes one of the Center's Aides, a VISTA Volunteer, took her there. The lady was badly shaken and asked the Aide to accompany her into her dying husband's room.

As the wife looked down at this wasted little man her tears fell and she began calling his name. She leaned farther over him, her hot tears dropping onto his face and imploring him to speak.

Finally she said; "Oh! He cannot hear me."

The Aide assured her that he did hear and told her to keep on speaking. Just the week before this particular Aide had attended a seminar on health where a well known physician spoke on the aspects of asphasia.

He explained that, in cases like this which are very common, a brain lesion or organic disorder can cause the patient to lose his power to communicate. But he can hear and understand everything that is said.

"Keep on, keep on," the Aide admonished and finally the old man slowly opened his eyes and tried to speak. His lips moved but no sound came.

Just this much brought joy to the wife who later thanked the Aide and remarked how thankful she was to have someone with her able to bring some small measure of comfort toward the end of the road.

The man died a few days later.

infested agricultural prunings and trees, there is less hope that alternate ways will be found to teach fire fighting.

And here is another:

CHARGE: San Jose is the third most polluted city in the United States in terms of cancer-causing fraction of airborne particulates.

ANSWER: That statement is absolutely false. A report by the U. S. Public Health Service in 1967 on the benzo-a-pyrene content of the air of 94 cities showed that there were only three cities in the study which had lower levels than San Jose.

IN ALL, THERE WERE 13 similar charges that were answered by the BAAPCD staff in the booklet.

We reiterate, the answers were taken from the booklet in which they were presented as "factual material".

We quoted 'em as we found 'em.

We were as startled as you must be to learn that smog in our Valley was not increasing.

We repeat: "the public perceives air pollution for the first time, and in the people's minds it simply didn't exist before it was perceived".

It's nice to know that the smog we are observing is only in our minds.

We'll try to remember that the next time we wipe our eyes.

On a hazy day, we mean.

ON BEHALF OF THE best community newspaper staff in the country, we thank you for the many kind words that have come our way since the appearance of the fifth annual progress edition of The Campbell Press.

We here at The Press are naturally proud of this year's achievement which was the most successful of all the ones that have been produced.

It set a new record at our joint which may be difficult to exceed.

But we will give it a try next year.

As always in retrospect after each progress edition, we all see where it could have been better.

-0-

FOR THE STATISTIC-minded individual, it may be interesting to note that more than 70 advertisers were represented in this year's progress edition.

There were more than 100 pictures.

There were approximately 40,000 words of news matter.

There were 32 pages that had to be made up. (Compared to an average 10-page paper.)

And we came out on schedule.

We hope you don't mind us bragging a bit about our special edition and, especially, how proud we were of the guys and gals on the staff who made it possible...

We mean Erlene, Rene', Fran, Carl, Sally, Shirley, Brent, Court, Sharon, Will and our Dorothy.

And, of course, the 50 paperboys who had to "stuff" and deliver the king-sized edition...It was a pretty heavy load for them.

And very special thanks, of course, go to those 70 advertisers who made it all possible.

Especially cooperative were the school districts in helping us emphasize the achievements that the youngsters have been making in our community.

And then there was that special feature of the dogs that the old pro, Sally, handled so well and which has received much favorable comments from so many of you.

The Press went to the dogs to be sure on that one.

But it was a doggone good edition, in our opinion.

Or had you gathered already that was the way we felt.

-0-

THERE HAS BEEN A great demand for the edition, much more than was anticipated, although we took the precaution to greatly increase our press-run.

Newsstands have had to be replenished several times and the over-the-counter sales have been extraordinary.

We can even boast that the edition has had nationwide distribution. Even world-wide.

For instance, Patrick Campbell, a retired meat-cutter from Chicago, who was visiting his son in Oakland, had one of the issues sent to London and another to New York.

He took enough copies also to distribute to his six other sons who live in Chicago.

He is no relation to the Campbell's of Campbell but, naturally, he likes the name of the community (and the paper).

And, of course, he wanted the Campbell postmark on the papers that were sent to London and New York.

FIRST-HAND NEWS OF the tragic happenings at the University of California at Santa Barbara was relayed to Campbell by a number of UCSB students from the area who kept their concerned parents informed of what was taking place.

Peg and Pat Hebard, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Don Hebard, for example, were both working at a Stop-and-Go Market directly across the street from that ill-fated Bank of America building that was destroyed by the mob.

So the two gals were where the action was.

It's hard to believe, but even at the height of the rioting, the Stop-and-Go was doing business as usual, the girls reported. In fact, it was busier than usual.

But the whole sticky mess is hard-to-believe.

on the zoning issue last night (March 3) because of the legal requirements regarding adequate notice for the hearing. The moratorium will thus cover the period until the hearing on March 23.

Scheduled also for last night (Tuesday) was the long-standing hearing on whether a second franchise should be issued for cable television. Nationwide Cable Vision is seeking a franchise in the city limits. San Jose Cable TV was issued a non-exclusive franchise two years ago.

The curtain last night was also expected to go up on the last act of the long-playing "The Case Of the Third Screen" for the Winchester Drive-In theater.

On the City Council agenda was the whole controversial package based on three appeals from Planning Commission rulings by Syufy Enterprises, owners of the theater, who are seeking a third screen for a six-acre land-locked parcel adjacent to the theater.

The three appeals concern an apartment complex for the property (the access to Union is the problem) and denials of requests for a zone change to allow the screen and a use permit for the screen, itself.

Bill Wren, public works director, was also scheduled to unveil the plan of the State Highway Department for the proposed off-ramp at Campbell Ave. that is awaiting final state approval.

DMV registers boats in state

Boat registration in California became the responsibility of the Department of Motor Vehicles on March 2, rather than the Department of Navigation and Ocean Development (formerly Harbors and Watercraft), according to Robert Cozens, DMV director.

The boating public and boating industry will continue to register boats as they do now: through private boat dealers authorized to act as boat registry agents.

ness was apparently constantly increasing.

When the City Council gets around to considering the annexation itself, it has also been indicated that many of the residents will oppose the annexation itself.

However, the proposed annexation of the seven parcels has received the blessing of LAFCO, the county agency that controls annexations. The city staff has reported that owners of more than 50% of the assessed valuation involved favor the annexation.

In other actions on Monday, the Planning Commission approved the plans for a five-unit apartment at 620 Gamma Court submitted by O. Barnett and for a 64-unit apartment at 481 Hacienda submitted by S. Zell.

The modified plan for the proposed car-wash operation as part of the new car care center at Kirkwood Plaza, submitted by Ira Kirkorian, was also approved.

The Commission also gave its approval to the planned development of Edward LaCroix for a commercial building at 450 Marathon Drive, just off Hamilton Ave. The proposed building of 12,800 square feet will be the new home of the Campbell Office Machines now located in Kirkwood Plaza.

The property is part of the overall shopping center in the area for which plans for a Fry's Market have already been approved.

Continued until March 16 was the public hearing on the application of Home Federal Savings and Loan Association for a permit to construct a building at 126 Dillon, now under interim zoning.

By that time the City Council must have taken action on whether the interim zoning for the Gilman-Dillon-Railway area is to be continued.

Approved was the application of Riley and Cuffe, Inc. for a tentative subdivision map of property on West Valley Drive between Union and Forman.

The Commission also reviewed the plans for the new city hall that were presented by Bill Hedley, architect of the project.

Motorists get special plates for CB radios

Several thousand California motorists are scheduled to pay $20 apiece, for the privilege of attaching citizens band radio operator license plates to their cars. The fee charge went into effect March 2.

CB radio station operators last year successfully sponsored a bill in the California Legislature which entitles them to this distinction.

In over-all size as well as in lettering style the plates will resemble the current gold-on-blue variety of California passenger car license plates, according to John L. McLaughlin, registrar of vehicles. Three letters followed by four numerals – standard for CB call signals – will completely fill the space available on the plate.

Eligible for the plates are holders of unexpired class D radio station licenses in the Citizens Radio Service issued by the Federal Communications Commission.

License plate applications may be obtained at any DMV office, McLaughlin announced.

City councilmen enjoy watching name sakes act

Two groups of "namealikes" were present last weekend at the Gaslighter Theater production of "The Perils of Penelope".

Up on the stage Homer Hydely, Billy Smedley, Edwina Rodgers, and Penelope Chamberlane went through the agonies of their melodrama.

Down in the audience were Homer Hyde, mayor of Campbell, Bill Smeed, Ed Rodgers and Dean Chamberlin, all Campbell city councilmen accompanied by their wives, who enjoyed the show and ate their fill of popcorn.

"The Perils of Penelope" will run through the month of March after which the bill of fare will be entitled "The Convict's Daughter". The old-fashioned tear-jerkers are presented every Friday and Saturday night at The Gaslighter Theater, 400 E. Campbell Ave.

Alt r Society sets spring date

Tickets for the annual spring wine tasting and salad luncheon sponsored by the St. Lucy's Altar Society, are now being placed on sale, according to Mrs. Joseph Aversente, general chairman.

The date has been set for April 2 at 1:30 p.m. in Kennelly Hall at the church, and early purchase of tickets is necessary as this is always a sell-out event. Ladies of the society will all have tickets available for sale.

Also present at the luncheon were four generations of the Ben Campbell family, original settlers of Campbell for whom the town was named. Included in the festivities were Genevieve Van Arsdell, Ben Campbell's great-granddaughter; Carol Anne Hagins, great-great-granddaughter, Linda Wright, great - great - great - granddaughter, and tiny Christine Wright, a great-great-great-great-granddaughter. Over 200 Early Settlers enjoyed the luncheon and social visiting time.

Combined choirs present "The Resurrection" cantata

A joint-choir presentation by the choirs of St. Lawrence Episcopal church and the Congregational Church of Campbell will feature "The Resurrection" by James A. Dasher on Sunday, March 8, at 10 a.m. at the Congregational Church.

Roger W. Kingman, music director, will lead the choirs and musical ensemble, including string quartet, piano, organ and tympani.

Singing solo parts will be Mrs. Rita Field, soprano; Mrs. Nadine Patterson, alto; Paul Cocking, tenor; Arthur Maxwell, baritone. Instrumentalists include Carol O'Reilly, Sherry Sposito, violins, Elizabeth Germer, viola; John Germer, cello; Catherine Kelly, tympani; Arpho MacIntyre, piano; and John Stamm, organ.

The Cantata, composed by a living American composer who resides in Valdosta, Georgia, has been specially scored for this performance by Kingman.

This is the third year that the two churches have sponsored a joint musical service during Lent. The Rev. L. John Larson, St. Lawrence, and the Rev. Anthony Wayne Myers, Congregational, will be the service liturgists.

Register now for kindergarten

Cambrian School District's Superintendent, D. M. Bagby, announced that the district's eight K-6 schools are open daily from 9-12 and 1-4 for the purpose of registering children for next year's school session.

Children born on or before Dec. 2, 1965, are eligible to attend. Parents must bring in proof of birthdate as well as inoculation against measles and polio.

The district operates single session kindergarten of three hours duration. Early registration assures the parent of better chances of securing the session wanted, and it helsp the district plan for the program.

Seniors hear Mrs Kahn speak

MRS. DOROTHY KAHN

Mrs. Dorothy Kahn, a newcomer to Campbell from Pennsylvania, speaking at the recent potluck dinner held at the West Valley Senior Action Center, expressed shock at finding no public tribute to Abraham Lincoln in the Campbell area.

Mrs. Kahn chided the seniors attending the supper for failing to impress upon their children and their children's children, the wisdom, faith and strength of the man who had held the nation together and freed the slaves. Mrs. Kahn could have good reason for being one to lack national pride, having seen a brother return from WWI an invalid and being the mother of a son who was severely injured in WWII and unable to return to normal living. However, her

However, her patriotic spirit expressed itself so thoroughly at the dinner that when she concluded with reading the Gettysberg Address, she was greeted with a moment of silence followed by tumultuous applause.

Mr. and Mrs. Kahn have recently taken up residence in the area to be near a daughter, Mrs. Ben Nelson, and her family, who make their home near here.

Mrs. Kahn was formerly employed as a secretary of Pittsburgh State Bank in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Smoking clinic registration open

Next Sunday night, March 8, marks the beginning of a "Five Day Plan" to help smokers who want to kick the habit. The five evening sessions of the clinic, March 8-12, will be held in the Fireside Room of the Campbell Congregational Church, 400 West Campbell Ave., according to Pastor Eugene Sample of the Campbell Seventh-day Adventist Church, who will be leading the clinic.

"Though enrollments are mounting there is still room for a number more to register," states Pastor Sample.

The Five Day Plan is a proven method that has aided thousands of people throughout America during the past ten years. It is sponsored as a community service by the Seventh-day Adventist church.

Those interested in participating in this clinic should phone Pastor Sample at 379-1851 or the Adventist Conference office, 297-1584, extension 46. Because enrollment for this clinic must be limited to 100, reservations should be made. A charge of $2.50 will be made to cover the cost of materials and supplies for the participants.

Bank of America starts action against mob

Outraged by a mob's "wanton destruction" of a branch building in Goleta, Bank of America announced a 4-step response that includes the filing of civic suits against participants in the arson.

In filing the "John Doe" suits, the bank said, "We intend to seek and collect maximum civil damages from the participants."

Other steps taken by the bank after the Feb. 25 burning of its Isla-Vista Branch were:

Dispatching a letter to Gov. Reagan and the mayors of major cities calling for prompt and effective measures "to stop the wanton destruction that is defacing our land";

Asking the Grand Jury in Santa Barbara to convene as soon as possible and to issue criminal indictments for arson against all participants in the burning;

Offering a reward, totaling $25,000, for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the leaders of the mob violence.

Speaking at a press conference in San Francisco, Samuel B. Stewart, vice chairman of the bank's board, termed the branch destruction "an insurrection against the democratic process of the kind that leads to further violence, bloodshed and anarchy. We are deeply concerned, not only for ourselves, but for the physical and material welfare of all our citizens".

Stewart said that Bank of America has been identified as a symbol of the establishment."

"So be it. We are proud to be a symbol of the establishment in the real sense of the meaning of that word: established law and order; established orderly process; established principles of the sanctity of life and property; established democratic functioning for the redress of grievances.

"We are also proud to be identified as a symbol of an outraged citizenry that is completely fed up with the senseless and lawless destruction that has been allowed to go unchecked.

"One of the greatest dangers in our current situation is that an angered citizenry will take things in their own hands. We don't want to see that happen and so we call upon established authorities to exercise their responsibilities in bringing this wanton lawlessness swiftly and completely to an end."

Obituaries

WILLIAM WATTS

Final services were held Monday morning for William J. Watts, 91, who passed away Friday, Feb. 27, following a short illness.

A Spanish-American War veteran, Watts was a retired army career man. His 30 years of service also included action in the Philippines, China, the Mexican border wars and WWI in which he received several battlefield citations during nearly two years of combat duty in Europe.

Retiring as a master sergeant, Watts moved to his Campbell home at 1165 Paula Drive, and was employed as an assembler at Food Machinery Co. in San Jose, and after WWII in a local cannery until he retired for a second time at 71.

A native of Texas, he is survived by his wife, Catherine. He also was the father of James R. Watts of Campbell, Gary A. Watts, Mrs. Joan Stein and Mrs. Thelma Patrino of San Jose and Mrs. Mary McClung of Lower Lake, Calif. Other survivors include 21 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Requiem Mass was held at St. Lucy's Church with the Rosary being recited Monday evening. Final arrangements were under the direction of the Campbell Memorial Chapel, with burial in the Santa Clara Catholic Cemetery.

EPILEPSY FILM

A film "Not Without Hope" was shown Friday evening, by the Campbell Moose Lodge as part of their continuing program of supporting the Epilepsy Society of Santa Clara County.

Speaker for the occasion was Joel Thomas, regional director of the San Francisco office. The Loyal Order of Moose is currently working nationwide through their more than 2,200 lodges.

Westmont Whirl

By Linda Hall

With "Una Noche de Musica" as the theme and decorations of slightly Spanish flavor, the Westmont Music Department will proudly present the sixth annual Pops Concert next Friday and Saturday nights at 8 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

This year's concert, directed by Mr. Gary Kenyon, will feature the choir, concert band, flag girls, majorettes and satin dolls. There will also be the Bach Trio, the Louie Miceli Big Band stage band, and solo guitar by Billy Krause.

Westmont has been honored this year by having three students selected for the 1970 State Honor Band Clinic held Feb. 20 through 22 at Riverside College, Riverside, California.

Juniors Bill Miller, clarinet; Dave Charlet, Contra Bass clarinet; and sophomore Jack Mommsen, bassoon; are the lucky applicants who represented Westmont at the three-day clinic.

The purpose of the clinic is to promote and encourage better bands in California by helping to provide musical experiences that are both valuable and enriching.

Spring is award time for seniors and this year the Bank of America has awarded 16 seniors with Bank of America Achievement Awards.

Prospect Pulse

by IVALEE INGRAHAM

Honor roll and straight "A" lists for the first semester at Prospect were posted last week. Of the total of 494 students on the honor roll, 45 received straight A's. Honor roll students must have a B average in their solid subjects.

Seniors had the most number of straight A's, with 15. They are: Linda Atkinson, Raymond Buschbacher, Kit Buckels, Luana Egerer, Ivalee Ingraham, Laurie Ishamatsu, Judith Knol, Laurie Klein, Steve Krieg, Sandra Nesseth, Cheryl Raphael, Joanne Reiter, Maureen Rummerfield, Steve Shoemaker, Kathy Smith, and Elizabeth Yasukawa.

Freshman students took second place with 13 straight A'ers. Dustin Baker, Jeanne Colby, Karen Ditty, Teresa Enslow, Cynthia Flanagan, Mary Glatzel, Janis Harada, Scott Hill, Pamela Hungerford, Jennifer Oakie, Linda Peters, Ruth Sakamoto and Susan Winer.

Nine juniors hold third place: Laura Aronson, Don Bradley, Debbie Cutter, Collette Frantozzi, Carolyn Guist, Joe Kovar, Alicia Raphael, Roberta Robertson and Terri Sakamoto.

Sophomores boasted only eight students: Nancy Coker, Michelle Ellis, Carol Harley, Kenneth Kuchta, Karyn Peterman, Jeff Pettit, Carol Rhodes, and Toncred Styblo.

All these students were guests at a breakfast held in Prospect's cafeteria during second period Friday. While they ate donuts and hot chocolate, District Superintendent Nicholas Montesanto and Principal Verdun Romer spoke and passed out achievement certificates.

445,000

There are 445,000 Girl Scout members in the Pacific area - California, Washington, Oregon, Alaska and Hawaii; close to four million in the U.S.A.

EXCELLENT STUDENTS— Eleven students at Camden High School were recently cited for their superior performance in specific fields in the annual Bank of America Achievement Awards program.

Students make Dean's Lists

Campbell students attending colleges throughout the area are continuing to achieve good grades as is evident by the names released for those students making "Dean's Lists".

A student earns a place on the Dean's List by making a grade point average of 3.0 (B) or better with no grade below a C, in at least 12 units.

At the University of California, Riverside campus Douglas Michael Freier, Westmont High School graduate and Kathleen Ann Casey, Del Mar High School, both are on the Dean's List.

Davis campus, University of California, students from Campbell making the Dean's List included Sharon G. Hopkins, Paul M. Hoque, Linette Haven, Diane M. Lander, Marc P. Thomas and Martin J Thompson.

SPORTS FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By Al Salciccia

Here's a great tip for all you golfers . . . The immortal Walter Hagen, who was one of the top golfers of all-time, once said that the one piece of philosophy that helped him more than anything else was this thought which he always kept in mind: The thought is this "There's no such thing as a perfect round of golf. It's normal to make some bad shots. When you make a bad shot, force yourself to forget it and go on to the next shot." . . . Hagen said surprisingly few people do this, but if you adopt this philosophy, you'll automatically be a better golfer..

California's newest refinery is the climax of more than 2 years construction and decades of research at a cost of $160 million dollars. It has a capacity of 3,000,000 gallons per day. And now, direct to you from this ultramodern installation will come the Enco Extra gasoline needed to serve a growing California.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

WHERE AND HOW TO APPLY FOR SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS

Now that the Social Security Administration has over 800 offices throughout the country, it's more convenient than ever to apply for social security benefits.

It's not difficult to find the address of your nearest social security office. Look in the telephone directory under the heading "Social Security Administration" or "U. S. Government." If there is no office listed in your community your local postmaster should be able to tell you where the nearest one is located.

If you are too sick to come into the office, they will send a representative to your home or even to a hospital.

If you are planning to retire, get in touch with your social security office ahead of time so that your checks can begin promptly.

Because of poor health, unemployment, or for personal reasons, you may want to retire before you are 65. Retirement benefits are payable as early as age 62, but in a reduced amount to take account of the longer period over which payments will be made.

If you are considering the possibility of early retirement, your social security office will give you information to help you make a decision.

If you decide to go on working, you should touch base with your social security office during the three months before your 65th birthday-

ANTI-POLLUTION GOAL--Four-year-old Gene Campbell, who lives in San Jose, helps call attention to Pacific Gas and Electric Company's pilot program in which 40 customer service trucks are being converted to operate on compressed natural gas. Reduction of air pollutants from motor vehicles is the principal objective of the experimental program. At the right, vehicles are lined up like horses at hitching posts to receive the "CNG" fuel at PG&E's Cupertino Service Center. A compressor unit feeds natural gas through a pipeline and then through hoses to refill two heavy-gauge metal fuel tanks installed in each truck. Operating range of the trucks with two tanks is from 60 to 80 miles.

Noted researcher of fringe movements to speak at college

One of America's foremost research specialists on political fringe movements will speak at West Valley College March 10.

Gordon D. Hall will speak on "Political Extremism in the United States" at 8 p.m. in the Campbell campus auditorium, 51 E. Campbell Ave., Campbell.

GORDON HALL
--Speaks March 10

Hall has been analyzing and investigating political fringe groups for nearly 20 years. His research ranges from the Marxist extreme left, across the broad democratic middle and on out to the brutal terrorists of the Ku Klux Klan on the radical right.

A unique crusader for social and political sanity, his research on the political fringes has brought retaliation through physical attacks, threatening phone calls and continuous harassment. Despite this, Hall believes that the only way for the truth to emerge is through free discussion.

Hall carefully distinguishes between the constructive liberal and conservative and the destructive forces representing the extremism of the radical left and the radical right.

Tickets for Hall's lecture may be obtained through the office of Community Services, 44 E. Latimer Ave., Campbell, room L-26, telephone 379-1733, ext. 58.

West Valley College Sports

BASEBALL

The Camino Norte Conference baseball season will begin next Tuesday for West Valley College. For the first time ever the Vikes will go into the season as champions.

Valley will open with Solano in Vallejo. The Campbellites won three games en route to the tourney win over an eight team field, including Napa, Sierra, Oakland Merritt, Sacramento City, Sacramento State JV's, San Jose City, and American River.

The Sac State JV's were the first to fall to the Vikes. Greg Ojeda cracked three hits in five trips with two runs-batted-in and Roy Meisner was two for three with an RBI as Greg Thompson tossed a five hitter to win 6-3. The big right-hander fanned six and walked none while supporting himself at the plate with two hits.

American River, after downing Napa 1-0 and Sierra 1-0, bowed to West Valley 3-1 in the championship tilt.

Abraham, two for two, Wright, three for five, and Ojeda, two for five, led WVC to a 9-5 win over San Jose in a two day contest.

After darkness halted the game after eight innings, tied at 5-5, the two squads came back the next morning to battle on the diamond. Valley broke it open in the tenth to rallye for a win with four runs.

Abraham was the Tournament's most valuable player as he sparked WVC to two of their three wins.

GOLF

Paul Bergna led the West Valley College golf forces to a league opening 38-16 win over Marin last week as the Viking freshmen carded a 74 on the Riverside Course. Bergna's 74 was the low score of the day as Valley rambled to their first Camino Norte Conference win.

West Valley will host Cabrillo at Riverside Friday in a tune-up for their next league encounter Tuesday with Contra Costa.

SWIMMING

The West Valley College swimmers will be looking for a total team effort Saturday morning when they visit Modesto in their first March tank encounter.

Key performances must be achieved by Vike swimmers Mike Castellano, Mike Hendrickson, Richard Kocher, Bruce Myers and Carl Boles in order for a Valley team win.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

The West Valley College women's basketball team topped a nine team field as they rambled to a Valentine's Day Cage Tourney title at Monterey Peninsula College.

The Vikettes bounced past Hartnell 31-13, Cabrillo 23-11, Solano 27-12, and Chabot 25-5 before meeting San Jose City in the finals. After a 19-19 deadlock at the end of the first half, WVC's women outscored the Jags by six points to win 37-31. Karen Caito tanked 20 points to lead the winners.

Four high school leagues vie in fall for county grid title

There will be playoff games at the close of the 1970 football season to decide the county championship with the winners of the four leagues (MHAL, SCVAL, STAL and WVAL) competing, according to the County Office of Education.

The championship game will be played on Saturday, Dec. 12 between the winners of the semi-final games, Friday, Dec. 4 and Saturday, Dec. 5. On Friday the winners of the SCVAL and STAL will tangle while the next day MHAL and WVAL will play.

The games will all be played under lights at Spartan Stadium with kickoff at 7:30 p.m.

The playoffs will be under the management of the Commissioner of Athletics of the Santa Clara County Office of Education and will be under the direction of the Executive Board of Control.

All participating team members will receive framed certificates and the championship team members will get individual gold charms while the runner-up team members will receive silver charms. The championship and runner-up teams will receive a Santa Clara County trophy which they will retain.

General admission for adults will be $2. Students with ASB cards will be charged $1 as well as children under 12 years of age.

After all expenses are paid for all three playoff games, the net proceeds will be split evenly among the public schools competing in the four athletic leagues in Santa Clara County.

College seeks part-time jobs for students

The rising unemployment in the nation has taken its toll locally.

According to West Valley College's placement officer, Mrs. Dorothy O'Brien, part-time jobs for students this spring semester are almost nil.

Mrs. O'Brien said that employers in the fall semester were constantly phoning in jobs, but that she has had no inquiries from employers the past few weeks.

The greatest need is jobs for men, according to Mrs. O'-Brien. She explained that men usually are supporting themselves and thus rely on part-time jobs. She said that jobs she had the first week of the spring semester were grabbed up and further jobs have not been forthcoming.

Jobs for women are also needed, but Mrs. O'Brien asked that those in need of babysitters not call into the college, as the main task of the office is to find long-term, part-time employment for the students.

Employers interested in helping the students should contact Mrs. O'Brien at the college, telephone 379-1733.

Annual dinner for brotherhood to attract 400

Some 400 "men and women of good will" are expected to attend the 5th annual Brotherhood Awards Dinner of the Santa Clara County Chapter of the National Conference of Christians and Jews March 31, according to NCCJ dinner chairman Norman Mineta.

Mineta, a San Jose city councilman, announced that John Veneman, under secretary of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, will be the featured speaker.

Veneman, a former California assemblyman, was invited by San Jose Assemblyman Earle Crandall.

"For the first time," observed Mineta, "the dinner will not only honor an individual for his work in the cause of brotherhood, but will also cite a business organization for its efforts and achievements in promoting brotherhood."

Highway goes through historical Fort Ross, where Russians were

On California's wild rugged coast 88 miles north of San Francisco, a weathered old fort sits lonely and isolated on a bluff overlooking the sea.

The outpost's only contact with the modern world, says the California State Automobile Association, is State Route 1 which slices right through the fort's high stockade walls. This is historic Fort Ross, the remnant of the colony planted on the shores of California by Imperial Russia over 157 years ago.

Surprisingly, Fort Ross looks today much the way it looked in 1841 when the last colonists left for Alaska. It is still an isolated outpost, austere, remote and aloof. Now as then, morning fogs linger in the air like dew, and winds whistle through the cracks of the crudely built walls and multisided blockhouse. The cabin-like Manager's House and the Chapel are the only buildings remaining of the orignal. The Manager's House was an elegant residence in Fort Ross's day, lavishly furnished and containing one of the first pianos in the West. It was the office and home of the fort's chief administrator. Today it is a museum housing typical tools and equipment used by the Fort Ross Colonists.

The Russian Orthodox Chapel with its two cistern-like steeples straddling the steep-planked roof, collapsed in the 1906 earthquake, but was repaired in 1917. In the 1950's it was authentically reconstructed.

Today, in the small anteroom of the Chapel, tourists can see vestments and an icon once used in Chapel services and inspect an old Russian bronze bell. Except for a few pictures, the walls are bare.

On the beach below Fort Ross where the Russian sailors and Aleuts once spred their catch and repaired their bidarkas kyaks which the Aleuts used successfully pursuing the otter–there is a modern picnic area complete with tables and stoves and a small wooden bridge fording a stream.

In its heyday, Fort Ross was home to about 400 to 700 people. Nine buildings sat within the stockade and 50 more were scattered on the green sloping hills in back.

Fort Ross was established in 1812 on the site of an old Pomo Indian village about 30 miles north of Bodega Bay and was named 'Colony Ross,' but because of its high stockade walls, became known as Fort Ross.

The Fort was sold by the Russians in 1841 to Captain John Sutter of Sacramento for $30,000.

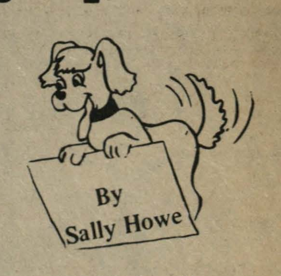
Bringing up fido



I feel kind of sorry for the woman who called me the other day to inquire about obedience training her dog. I guess I shouldn't feel sorry for the owner – but for the dog.

In this woman's eyes, "shots" for her dog were a complete waste of money and she was infuriated when I told her that no training group would permit the dog to attend unless he was immunized.

"I'm not going to spend the money," and with that she hung up the telephone.

What she didn't realize was that she was willing to put her time into training the dog and she was willing to pay for the class, so that she was already making an investment–and then was endangering her investment by allowing the dog to contract all kinds of horrible illnesses.

Shots for the dog, in addition to being a protection for him, are a protection for you, and for your neighbor's dog, and so on. Only because this country had a smallpox scare did people really understand the purpose of smallpox vaccinations–will it take an epidemic in dogs and cats to create a similar understanding?

The Dark Ages are over and the family dog is no longer just a "free" commodity. Emphasis (and rightly so) is on a dog bred to a specific size, temperament, and utility and this kind of breeding incurs an expense–an expense which immunization (rabies, distemper, hepatitis, leptospirosis) will help to protect.

MISLEADING: A dog which is a mixture of two purebreds is a new breed.

FACT: A dog which is a mixture of two purebreds is a mutt–no genes divide exactly down the middle when two dogs are mated and there's no test available to determine what percentage belongs to father and what to mother.

Misinformed persons frequently tell you a dog is a Cockerpoo or a Maltese-poodle -- but really, folks, it's just a mix!

Residential building in county rises

Residential building activity in Santa Clara County registered a very strong year in 1969, continuing to improve from the severe slump in 1966, the County Planning Department reports.

Preliminary tabulations indicate a total of 18,771 units authorized by building permits, the third highest year on record (surpassed only by the years 1962 and 1963). This compares to the low of 6,707 in 1966, 10,235 in 1967, and 17,561 in 1968.

Apartment construction continued to dominate. About 64 per cent of the total units authorized were for multiple units, surpassing the previous high of 58 per cent in 1963.

The majority of the permitted units were for larger apartment structures. There were approximately 9,000 units permitted in apartments of 5 or more units, considerably above the previous record of 7,650 in 1963. This category accounted for 48 per cent of the total units authorized. Many of these units were in large apartment complexes of 100 and up.

Single family units affected by tight money and higher interest rates dropped off considerably in 1969 particularly during the second half of the year. Permits for singles declined 28 per cent from 9,400 units in 1968 to 6,800 in 1969.

Despite fluctuations in some years, singles have continued to decrease since 1950 as a percentage of total units authorized. From a high of 90 per cent in 1950, singles have declined to an all-time low of 36 per cent in 1969. This compares to the previous record low of 42 per cent in 1963.

NEIGHBORHOOD 17

Do you know where Cookie Pushers get their cookies?

Mrs. Richard Crapo, Neighborhood 17 Girl Scout Cookie Chairman, accepted 699 fresh cases sent from Burry Bisquet Company this week. Distribution to more than 333 brown and green uniformed Girl Scout "Cookie Pushers" from Campbell, began last week.

Mrs. Elaine Olsen, Santa Clara County Girl Scout Council cookie chairman, announced that more than 18,000 girls will move 408,000 boxes from 60 similar neighborhood depots out into the community within the next ten days.

Five choices: Mint, Savannah, Sandwich, Scot Teas and Fudge Creme, are offered this year at the same "anti-inflation" price of previous years, 50¢ per box.

Senior Girl Scouts, who coined the phrase "Cookie Pusher" warn that Girl Scout cookie buying could become habit-forming.

If you need a Cookie Pusher in the Campbell area, call 377-5517.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

The recent landmark decision by a Superior Court Judge in Los Angeles County which will force "bussing" of students to achieve de facto integration is more than just a brand new legal concept. Additionally, because it is in conflict with the spirit of federal law, it may lead to a situation where action of a state court invalidates federal law.

The Los Angeles County Judge did not find that the Board of Education had juggled district lines or had taken any action which resulted in segregation. On the contrary, it is admitted by all that district lines are drawn reasonably and that segregation has resulted only because the children of negro districts went to school in their own neighborhood.

Relying upon that portion of the Fourteenth Amendment which says, "No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens...", the court followed a completely new line of reasoning. It interpreted this part of the Amendment to mean that even though the state had passed no law to create segregation that it had the obligation to take steps against segregation if it existed. This means that expensive "bussing" in Los Angeles County will be required.

Competent lawyers will argue both sides of this decision with sincerity. But eventually it will be decided whether the Los Angeles Judge stretched the Constitution unreasonably by appeals which may reach the U. S. Supreme Court. When the appeals have been taken and if the lower court is upheld, then existing federal statutes are almost certain to be challenged.

The Civil Rights Act of 1964 provides in Section 404(b) that "'desegregation' shall not mean the assignment of students to public schools in order to overcome national imbalance".

Course in great religions starts at WVC March 6

West Valley College will offer a four-week course in "Great Religions of the World: What's the Difference" beginning March 6 at 8 p.m.

Dr. William H. Miller, College of San Mateo professor, will teach the short course, which is designed to examine fundamental beliefs of the great (in terms of numbers) religions of the world within a comparative context.

Topics for the Friday night sessions include "The Nature of God and His Relationship to Man", "What is Man? What is His Relationship to God?", "Man's Relationship to Man", and "Death and What Follows."

Each evening Dr. Miller will provide resource material during the first hour with discussion following for the second hour.

Interested residents of the district must register for the course at the Office of Community Services, 44 E. Latimer Ave., Campbell, room L-26, telephone 379-1733, ext. 58.

Police fail to find bomb after call

"I don't mean to scare you, but I left a bomb in there",

The phone call to the Hamilton Lounge, 1660 S. Bascom Ave. Monday afternoon was convincing enough that owner Evelyn Petrinovich called the Campbell Police Dept.

Campbell police officers and Campbell fire department personnel responded to the call and conducted a thorough search of the premises without discovering any object that would pass as a bomb.

Mrs. Petrinovich, who also owns the Red Coach Coffee House at 3197 Meridian Ave., had received a similar call approximately a month ago at the second establishment.

A burglar with an appreciation of good carpets helped himself to several large rolls of carpeting from the Bits and Pieces Interiors, 190 Dell Ave., sometime during the night of Feb. 27.

Entry was made by forcing a large window and the thief apparently used the company's own fork-lift to move the heavy 600 to 700 lb. rolls of carpeting. Value was placed at $2358, according to owner Jim Slaughterbeck.

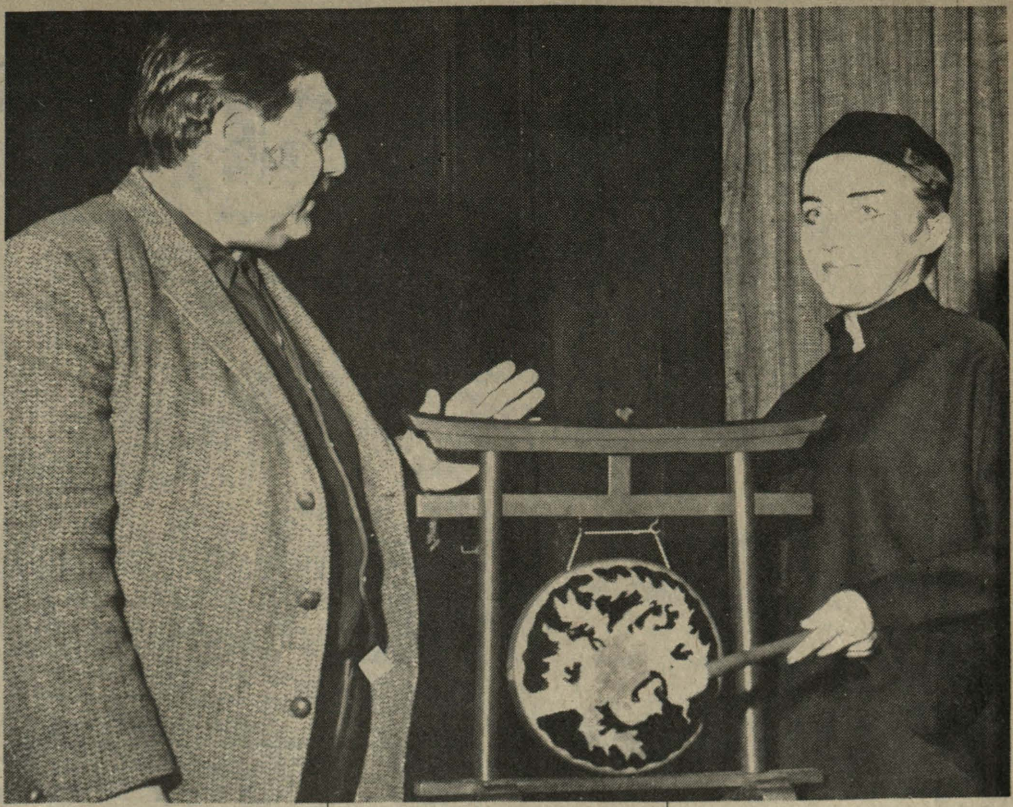
Other police activities during the week involved several cases of juveniles involved with drugs, and the burglarizing of the Standard Oil Co. Station, 3405 Winchester. The large glass window was smashed and the vending machines pried open. Coins amounting to $23.85 were removed.

BUCKNALL ELEMENTARY

Mrs. Marilyn Bolei, Bucknall Elementary School service co-chairman was honored recently with the award of the honorary life membership.

At the same time, service award pins were presented to Mario Chisessi, Mrs. Myrrha Eberly, Mrs. Dorothy Henry, Mrs. Mary Kenny, Mrs. Laura Orr, Mrs. Evelyn Ruppert, Mrs. Mary Stan, Ronald Taylor and Mrs. Betty Walcyak.

After the presentation of awards, E. M. Arends, Campbell School Board of Trustees president, spoke on the bond issue.



DO IT RIGHT--Paul Gurev, West Hamilton Ave. director of the Junior League of San Jose production of the "Chain of Jade", gives last minute direction to Mrs. Thomas Parnell of Monica Lane. The production will be presented during the Children's Performing Arts Week, March 1-7.
